Description

Curious and rare automaton pendulum in patinated bronze and gilded with mercury representing the arrival of Napoleon on the island of Elba, the mechanism activates the boat with three masts in the waves, it has four movements, the hull of the boat is in wood, the sails are in parchment, the sea is in silk fabrics as well as the tricolor flag (this boat was made available by the French state for Napoleon's personal needs). The base is decorated with two cupids blowing in shells. This clock relates a fact of our history, it is a museum piece, it has been completely revised and works perfectly.
