Description

Earthenware table planter with polychrome decorations, made by the Quimper factory HB, whose signature is affixed twice, on and under this ceramic. This oval-shaped model features shimmering colors, dark blue patterns on a sky blue background, contrasted by orange-yellow scalloping. The pot-bellied parts present two different pictures. On the first figure two characters, dressed in traditional Breton clothes, seated in the moor: a woman, holding a basket, listens attentively to her companion, playing the bignou. A garland of flowers and foliage adorns the other side. An essential object of Breton heritage offering your gaze a scene of this rich culture, this Planter will brighten up any piece of furniture on which you see fit to display it with its bright colors. It may or may not be accompanied
