Description

Four-sided oval-shaped cage pendulum made of domed bevelled glass. Commemorative clock, a plaque on the front mentions: The staff of the place d'Abbeville 1914/1918. White enamel dial set in a gilded bronze rim decorated with ornate blued needle friezes. Movement signed by the watchmaker Japy, mercury compensation balance, striking hours and a half hours on gong. Perfect working condition, supplied with its winding key. A note: a chip in a corner of the glass of the rear door. This defect is not visible from the front and in no way affects the operation of the clock or its structure.
