Description

Beautiful rosewood saddles with carved decorations and long arched legs. Each of these small tables has a circular top whose perimeter features a branch. A large openwork frieze surrounds the upper part of each harness. Slender branches and leaves are carved into the material. The arched feet also have garlands of leaves running along their edge to the bottom. These feet end in the shape of animal paws. A spacer carved with plants, in the shape of a cross, connects the four legs. Atypical and harmonious, these Asian harnesses catch the eye with their deep color and sculpted ornamentation.  Period: 20th
