Lovely terracotta of 2 putti, bickering on a thin base also in terracotta, bearing an inventory number (214) It dates from the beginning of the 18th century, see the end of the 17th. They are reminiscent of the engravings of Jacques Stella (1596-1657), published by his niece Claudine Bouzonnet Stella the year of the death of her uncle, "The games and pleasure of childhood." It is in excellent condition and surprises with the finesse of all the details, starting with their very expressive grimacing faces and their curly hair, through their clothes undone by the fight, to the tiny feet and hands. No lack. Note a small molding defect on the left sleeve of one of the toddlers. Great harmony of proportions: Its dimensions form a square: 16.5 x 16.5 cm
