Description

René Buthaud (1886-1986) Unique vase made by the artist, around 1930, offered by René Buthaud to the father of the current owners; the latter, a craftsman electrician (a close relative of my family) rebuilt and brought up to standard all the electrical circuits that then supplied René Buthaud's ceramic art workshop.

The object was therefore offered to my electrician cousin as a thank you for the excellent work he had done for René Buthaud.

This vase is in excellent condition, so it has remained in the family since its gift to the electrician.

It is monogrammed under the RB base.
