Description

An elegant Louis Philippe giltwood mirror, with the signature rounded upper corners so reminiscent of the period. The frame's inner edge is adorned with a frieze of tiny 'pearls' to enclose the mirror plate, while the four sides are etched with a contrasting design of dashes and curves. Louis Philippe mirrors, with their clean lines and versatile shape, are a popular choice in traditional or contemporary home settings. There are some minor imperfections and some very light foxing to the lower corner, as would be expected with a piece of this age and usage, but this does not in any way detract from its charm.
