Description

Crafted with intricate detail, each candle holder allows the arms to be raised and lowered to your desired height, combining functionality with artistic flair. In very good condition, these candlesticks measure 32x28x14 cm. The gilded copper construction indicates a luxurious touch, as gilding involves applying a thin layer of gold or similar material to enhance the aesthetic appeal. The craftsmanship of these candlesticks, each individually carved, reflects the attention to detail characteristic of the 19th century craft tradition. The ability to adjust the height of the arms suggests a thoughtful design prioritizing practicality and customization. This feature would have allowed users to adapt the candle holders to different environments or occasions, further emphasizing their versatility. Given their
