Description

Pretty art-deco chandelier by Schneider. Fans will recognize without the slightest hesitation the work of Schneider for this glass basin, with a very characteristic threaded powder blue. Note the orange rim, a so-called "superposition" technique, also well known from the work of the master glassmaker. This combination of techniques is rare and very luminous because it is on a yellow background. The basin is associated with a beautiful 3-light frame, pinched (rare), in gilded bronze, and decorated with palmettes and acanthus leaves. very good condition, 41 cm in diameter, circa 1920-1925. A very beautiful art-deco chandelier, original and bright.
