Description

Alejandro Christophersen (Cádiz, 1866 - Buenos Aires, 1946) Oil on canvas, 1920. Alejandro Christophersen (Cádiz, 1866 - Buenos Aires, 1946) Oil on canvas, 1920. A night in a patio in Seville. Alejandro Christophersen is directly linked to the world of architecture, particularly in Argentina where he was one of the most influential figures in the layout of the city of Buenos Aires and the greatest exponent of eclectic architecture. But he also followed training in visual arts at the Royal Academies of Fine Arts of Belgium, Brussels and Paris. His works participated in exhibitions such as the Bordeaux Painting Salon in 1909, the Salon des Artistes Français in Paris in 1909 and 1910 and the Salon d'Automne in the same city in 1911. A few years after the creation of this painting in the
