The porcelain figurine represents two putti playing with a ram. A bunch of grapes with leaves is visible at their feet.

Joseph d'Aste, Capodimonte, Naples, early 20th century. Signed "J. d'Aste" and "N" with crown.

Joseph d'Asté (1872 Naples - 1940 Paris) is an Italian sculptor who, however, associates his artistic career with Paris from around 1900. He participated for the first time in the Salon of French Artists in 1905. His various sculptures represent children, putti, groups of characters; one of his bronze sculptures representing a peasant woman with children is kept at the Musée d'Orsay in Paris.
