Description

Magnificent composition for this clock in marble and chiseled, gilded and patinated bronze representing Venus disarming Cupid, the latter begging the goddess to return his bow and arrows.

The white enameled dial indicating the hours in Roman numerals is signed "F. Linke Paris". One of the bronzes is also signed "Linke".

The mechanism works but needs a little revision.

The clock is in its original condition, very well preserved, with key and pendulum.

France, around 1890.
