Description

Incredible raw hematite in very large format. It measures 37cm long by 16cm high and weighs more than 10 kilos! It is very rare to find a geode of this size. Hematite with its black nodules is emblematic of mineralogy. They are found in quantity in certain regions of the world such as Brazil, Switzerland and Morocco. However, it is rare to find such a large format. From an old French collection, the stone was purchased in Morocco.
