Description

Superb farm table from the first half of the 20th century. Made by a French cabinetmaker, it is made of solid beech. Very simple in appearance with its 4 square feet, it has taken on a beautiful patina over the years, which gives it this beautiful honey color. There is no sculpture or molding, its beauty lies essentially in its simplicity. It is in very good condition, perfectly stable and solid. Marks of time and other traces add a little more charm and authenticity. No restoration has been carried out, it has just been treated and worn with wax, in order to respect its original color. A drawer allows you to store papers or cutlery.... This table will be ideal for creating a dining area with a very country feel in the middle of both old and modern decor. Circa 1930. Dimensions: - Height: 68 cm - Leg passage height: 54 cm -
