Description

We present this fairly large pair of bronze candlesticks from the 17th century. In very good condition but it should be noted that at one point one of the candle sticks must have fallen and had to separate in the upper part and a very intelligent repair was made, that is to say that the person tapping the upper part and put a screw in the lower part see the photos, it joins perfectly but before this intervention a welding test had to be done so there is a remainder of welding that must be removed. Weight of both 2.8 kg. (E24)
