Description

Elegant Louis XV style desk with three drawers on the front, the central one of which has a recessed recess. Leather-covered top with tone-on-tone peripheral frieze, and small iron patterns in the corners and in the center, some traces of wear and small stains are to be noted, the top is surrounded by a bronze molding with a beak profile. Beautiful bronze handles, lock entries and falls. Exceptional old patina which plays the game of period furniture, in the spirit of the manufactures of the Mailfert workshops in Orléans, it is necessary to note the quality of assembly of the drawers, the precision of the dovetails and the flat rebate bottoms, all with a perfectly aged appearance, both inside and outside the drawer. Quality furniture, manufactured in the mid-20th century. respecting
