

Lancel Bucket Bag - Vintage - Mustard Yellow And Brown Leather - Paris France

450 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Leather

Diameter : 31

Height : 31

<https://www.proantic.com/en/1405486-lancel-bucket-bag-vintage-mustard-yellow-and-brown-leather-paris-france.html>

Description

Wonderful camel leather bag from Maison Lancel from the 1990s. This magnificent Lancel handbag is bucket-shaped: The bucket is a very famous bag from Maison Lancel. It has a large adjustable smooth camel brown and mustard grained leather handle. The mustard and camel colors blend together wonderfully and are very elegant.

LANCEL 1876 enameled gold metal coat of arms surrounded by camel brown leather on the front of the bag. Luxurious vintage bag that is always very fashionable, a real accessory to enhance outfits. This bag is of high quality both in terms of the materials used and the finishes. This bag can be found in an advertising photo, published in many magazines, of Maison Lancel in 1991.

Lancel is a French leather goods company founded in Paris in 1876 by Angèle and Alphonse

Dealer

JAD Antiquités Décoration

Généraliste

Mobile : 0638692763

979 route du château

Beuzevillette 76210

Lancel and then developed by their son Albert, who placed the bag at the center of the house's development strategy and offered luxurious models. He transformed the handbag into a fashion accessory. From 1920, the company made bags in precious leather and equipped with jewel clasps. Maison LANCEL is still today a great French luxury house with an international reputation.