

Antique Brooch Bouquet Of Flowers Silver And White Stones Late 19th Century

270 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Sterling silver

Length : 7,5cm

Width : 4cm

Description

This large brooch represents a bouquet of flowers and leaves with elegant and fluid movement.

It is in textured and hand-engraved silver, with a beautiful old patina highlighting sparkling white stones set in openwork on the leaves and the two flowers that make up the bouquet.

The stones, very sparkling without flashiness on the back, are not identified, perhaps zircons or white sapphires.

Old hallmark on the back 925 in a rectangle.

Old brooch system working perfectly: T-joint of the pin and artisanal "trombone" shaped safety clasp.

Please note: two stones have been replaced.

Period 1890-1910.
