Description

Using a variety of techniques in striking tones of red and black, the artist creates an interesting and illusive portrait of a lady. The wide, hopeful eyes, dark hair and laced clothing of this lady certainly capture our attention, as she appears to be gazing up at an abstract bowl of fruit, a possible symbol of lust or desire. This unique, mesmerising piece is loaded with symbolism, with influences from artists such as Marc Chagall, who greatly influenced Ubeda during his travels in Paris.

This limited edition silkscreen is signed by Agustín Ubeda, a Spanish painter and graphic artist who was born in 1925. His lyrical and highly distinctive works often explore themes of sensuality and irony, in a style that is truly uniquely his own, described as being 'at the edge
