Description

This magnificent Louis XV style bedside table, dating from the end of the 19th century, is a true work of art. Made of rosewood and palisander, it is distinguished by its three identical drawers with rosewood fronts, each inlaid with lemonwood marquetry representing branches, leaves and flowers. The drawers are equipped with original functional locks with bronze entries and keys. The top of the bedside table is decorated with a brass ingot mold and has a rosewood veneer arranged in four leaves, framed by lemonwood fillets and rosewood floral marquetry. The whole rests on whiplash feet, decorated with bronze sabots, adding a touch of elegance and refinement to this exceptional piece of furniture. This piece of furniture could very well serve as a small living room table for an ever more neat interior.
