Description
-------------

This superb large antique silver-plated pitcher, with an imposing height of 40.5 cm, is a unique and exceptional piece, combining elegance and old-world know-how. This masterpiece is a true ode to Art Nouveau, a style that marked the beginning of the 20th century with its refinement and inspiration drawn from nature. A rich and meticulously crafted design The pitcher is magnificently sculpted with a profusion of fine and subtle details, testifying to remarkable goldsmith work. It is decorated with stylized flowers, emblematic motifs of Art Nouveau, which gracefully curl over the surface, offering an elegant and captivating relief. These floral ornaments give the pitcher a romantic and delicate look, while highlighting the harmony between art and nature. Another striking detail, this pitcher features sublime Greek friezes, which harmoniously run along its contours. These geometric patterns, both simple and sophisticated, bring a touch of classic balance, reminiscent of ancient influences. An original and spectacular handle The highlight of this rare piece undoubtedly lies in its spectacular gargoyle-shaped handle, a bold and fascinating detail. This finely sculpted figure seems to watch over the contents of the pitcher, adding a mystical and artistic dimension to this exceptional object. The contrast between the softness of the stylized flowers and the imposing appearance of the gargoyle creates a harmonious composition that immediately catches the eye. A coveted and timeless object This pitcher, with its exceptional character and timeless design, is a highly prized piece, ideal for embellishing a beautiful home or a refined collection. Its majestic height of 40.5 cm makes it both functional and ornamental, whether for serving or simply adorning an elegant interior. General condition and remarks Despite its age and probable use over the years, this pitcher has remained in excellent general condition, retaining all of its original shine and charm. However, it is worth noting a few minor dents or slight dents, which do not affect its beauty or use. These discreet imperfections even add a touch of authenticity, reminding us that this pitcher has stood the test of time while carrying its history. A real treasure for art lovers This large antique silver-plated pitcher is a rare and coveted piece, perfect for collectors or lovers of decorative objects steeped in history. It will fit perfectly into an elegant home, bringing a touch of opulence and refinement. Its Art Nouveau style, combined with the finesse of its ornaments and the singularity of its gargoyle, make it an object that is both utilitarian and decorative, both a witness to craftsmanship and a true work of art. This goldsmith's jewel is much more than a simple pitcher: it embodies luxury, history and art, a timeless treasure to preserve and admire. If you are looking for a piece that is both practical and exceptional, this pitcher will seduce with its unique character and undeniable brilliance. This object is available for sale in my shop at 57 rue Victor Hugo, 76000 Rouen, rives droite.
