

Arts-ceram Grand Feu Chimney Neck Stoneware Vase

Description

Large stoneware vase with a chimney neck and a handle. Brown and black tones, very modern. Hollow stamp "Arts-Ceram Grand Feu". Between 1951 and 1963. Non-professional restoration on the neck (see photo). Still solid to handle. Despite this in perfect condition.

"Son of Léon POINTU, he took over his father's pottery and developed a range of utility tableware from 1947 to 1948. After the failure of this business, in 1951, he then established himself with his wife Denise POINTUD-DETRAZ (a former student of the École des Beaux-arts de Bourges) in an old pottery in Bouillons in Arquian which then took the name "Art-Ceram Grand feu"; adventure that would last until the beginning of 1963. Denise developed the design

130 EUR

Signature : Michel POINTU (1925-20XX) et Denise POINTUD-DETRAZ (1927-2020)

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Sandstone

Width : 22cm anse comprise

Diameter : 12cm

Height : 53cm

<https://www.proantic.com/en/1447452-arts-ceram-grand-feu-chimney-neck-stoneware-vase.html>

Dealer

Famille Fresnaye

Généraliste - Troisième génération

Mobile : 0614240672

Léguevin 31490

of the shapes of common stoneware and also made rare personal pieces: vases, cups, but above all sculptures in modeled stoneware such as Christs and virgins. » Source: Poterie et potiers de Puisaye et du val de Loire by Marcel Poulet. Free shipping for mainland France.