Description

Very beautiful and unusual console in mahogany and mahogany veneer from the Louis XVI period (1785-1790). Our console of rectangular shape, resting on front uprights in console with scrolls carved with foliage decoration ending with claw feet, the rear uprights straight. Sea green marble with triple molding. The scrolls of very high quality take us back to the "Greek taste" we find in the work of George Jacob a console with scrolls close to our piece of furniture, console delivered to the princess of Conti née Este-Modène for her hotel on rue Saint Dominique.
