One can only be admiring in front of the work and the abundance of patterns, stylized flowers, arabesques covering this rug, its medallion and its borders.

The colors of great vivacity, are composed of an orange red, ivory, almond green, blues and black black causing contrasts while separating the patterns.

The thickness of this carpet is 5 mm, which makes it a flexible piece but whose hold on the ground is stiffened by the density of the knots.

This carpet in natural silk on fine cotton, hand-knotted around 1970-1980 is in superb condition.

A slight wear gives it a beautiful patina that enthusiasts appreciate.

The region of Srinagar in Kashmir is where these wonders are produced and where they were produced, silk on silk or silk on cotton.

Srinagar, the Venice of India, its carpets decorated with gardens, like the gardens of Shalimar, its papier-mâché, and its colorful culture.

India and especially the region of Kashmir is not a wool-producing country, hence the little use of this material.

The wool used in India comes almost entirely from imports.

The pieces from Kashmir are of impeccable quality, knotted with top-quality materials as beautiful as in Iran and making them significant competition for many decades.

This carpet has been cleaned professionally and ecologically.
