Description

JAGUAR VASE

Guanacaste culture, Nicoya region, Costa Rica
1,000 - 1,500 A.D.

Polychrome terracotta

H. 32.8 cm, length 18 cm

Tripod vase with a stylised jaguar head in relief and two other felines painted in black and red ochre.

The feet are openwork to serve as bells, and the circular neck is decorated with a frieze of geometric motifs.

The jaguar is an emblematic feline of pre-Columbian civilisations. Here it represents a shaman transformed into the spirit of the jaguar.
