

Northwood Wishbone Pattern Amethyst Carnival Glass 20th Century

Description

Lovely Lucky Bowl, which can also be used as a pocket emptier, in "Carnival" glass. Work of the famous American Northwood Glassworks. Circa 1910. This type of glass is called carnival glass because of its iridescent colors and fanciful patterns. The glass has a magnificent iridescent effect with hues ranging from deep purple to emerald green, blue and gold. This characteristic is typical of Carnival glass. The bowl is decorated with a complex floral pattern, with stylized orchid flowers and leaves. The center of the bowl often has a smaller floral pattern. The outer patterns are called Ruffles and rings. The shape of the bowl is wavy, which adds a touch of originality and aesthetics. This magnificent bowl rests on a base with 3 volute feet. Perfect stability. Good general condition, no chips or cracks. (minimal wear) see

180 EUR

Signature : Verrerie Northwood

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Length : 22 cm

Width : 22 cm

Diameter : 22 cm

Height : 8 cm

<https://www.proantic.com/en/1469673-northwood-wishbone-pattern-amethyst-carnival-glass-20th-century.html>

Dealer

Les trésors de Marie

Généraliste

Mobile : 0625080561

210 impasse du loup

Le Rouret 06650

photo. Do not hesitate to contact me for more information, and add us to your favorites to follow our latest news! Shipping possible throughout France for a total amount of EUR20 with insurance included. In the event of withdrawal, we inform our kind customers that the return costs remain the responsibility of the customer.