

Pair Of Lamps Attributed To Philippe-joseph Brocard, Mamluk Style, Paris, Circa 1870

16 600 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Description

An elegant pair of mosque lamps in green, mass-dyed blown glass, made in the Mamluk style. Each piece has a globular body topped with a flared conical neck and rests on a pedestal with curved contours. The rich and meticulous decoration consists of gilded leaf and palmette motifs covering the green enamel surface, with six looped handles brought back into reserves. These works, signed under the belly, illustrate the refinement and excellence of Parisian creations of the late 19th century.

Dealer

Samer's Club Antiquites

19th Century Antiques

Mobile : +33605538657 ou +212666150259

85 rue des rosiers, stand 76

Saint-Ouen 93400