Description

Bust portrait of an unidentified man by the sculptor Jules Roulleau (1855-1895).

French sculptor and engraver, Jules Roulleau was born in Libourne (Gironde) on October 16, 1855 and died in Paris in April 1895. He began his career as a stonemason before joining the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris, where he studied under Jules Cavelier and Louis Ernest Barrias. In 1880, Roulleau won the second Prix de Rome with his work L'Enfant prodigue gardien les porceaux and, in 1881, he won the Prix de la tête d'expression for L'Idée de vengeance. He participated in the Salon from 1878 and was the author of several famous sculptures, including an equestrian statue of Joan of Arc (in Chinon), a bronze statue of Lazare Carnot (in Nolay) and a bust of Bainville
