Description

Bronze censer, China - 18th century

Superb patinated bronze censer from the 18th century, testimony to the refinement of Chinese art.

Description

Its low, circular shape rests on a slightly raised foot, and it is decorated with rounded touches in relief. Two small side handles in the shape of animal heads give it elegance and balance, while a refined decorative frieze in the background depicts mystical birds facing each other, a symbol of peace and longevity. A mark under the base attests to its authenticity.
