Description

Young man in tunic. Carved and polychrome wood. Spanish school, 14th century.

Figurative sculpture in wood that preserves traces of polychromy and gilding. It is probably a young man (without beard and uncovered hair), with an object in his hand (perhaps a book). In the absence of other elements, a certain identification of the character is not possible (it could be an evangelist). The shape and aesthetics of the piece classify it in the Spanish school and date it to the 14th century. -
