Description

Reminiscent of a Renaissance Ring with its domed, pyramid shaped central stone.

This antique ring is set with Rose cut Garnets and a central pyramid shaped Garnet also with a Rose cut.

This central motif is secured in place with gold wire. This is found in antique jewellery and I have included 2 photos of other rings with Garnets set with the same gold wire. The central part is fixed and secure. All in a closed back setting as is normal for jewellery of this age.

The central Garnet has a small crack running through it but it is not easily visible.
