Description

Flemish School, Late 17th Century Superb oil on canvas, relined, depicting a scene of maternity imbued with gentleness and spirituality.

Subject: Maternity The work highlights a tender and intimate representation of the Virgin and Child, typical of Flemish Baroque iconography. The mother's benevolent gaze and the child's mischievous expression reflect a rare artistic sensitivity.

Style & Period Dated to the second half of the 17th century, this painting is in the tradition of the Flemish school, with great finesse in the treatment of drapery, delicate skin tones and a subtle light that highlights the volumes.
