Description

Signed A. Maugé and dated 1928 This is an oil painting, made on a cardboard panel, representing a garden or undergrowth in spring. The soft light of spring passes through the branches. In the background, discreet houses are outlined and blend into the landscape. The color palette, dominated by soft greens, subtle browns and a few bright touches of yellow and white creates a soft atmosphere. This painting, by its simplicity and its bucolic side, exudes a quiet charm. The edge of the cardboard is damaged in several places as shown in the photo. Dimensions: 33 × 24 cm
