Description

Art Deco period table lamp, signed Etling France for Edmond Etling. The bowl is decorated with thistles and placed on a chrome-plated metal base. The bowl is in perfect condition. Note some wear and tear on the base. Edmond ETLING is a Parisian dealer in decorative art objects, who excelled in the 1920s and 1930s in France. He had two fundamental principles: on the one hand, always being "in the taste" and on the other hand, hiring fashionable artists. He had the Richard vases executed between 1920 and 1929 at Johann LOETZ WITWE in South Bohemia, in Klostermühle. The artistic quality of Edmond Etling was compared to that of René Lalique. The Cristallerie de Sèvres produced pieces from the molds of the models that the artist still owned, then Choisy le Roi (1932) and Vannes le Châtel
