Description

Amazing art deco watch, from the famous Bulova manufacturer, curvex shape, but asymmetrical, imitating a wave. The American market has seen great creativity in case shapes. It is also the place where for a model it is declined in gold plated, gold filled, or 14k or 18k gold, in order to attract customers of all means on the same model. The model offered here is in "rolled gold" which is a gold leaf applied on another metal, which allows a real resemblance to the expensive gold models, and still a much less wear of the gold. This model is not very common, with this very original profile. It works very well for its age (almost a hundred years old) the quality of the movements used by Bulova is no longer to be proven.
