Description

Elegant small Louis XVI style "full face" piece of furniture, 18th century. Made of walnut, it features a fine tapered base finished with delicate sabots. A discreet drawer fits under the top, decorated with pretty carved details. There is also a lovely ornamentation of small inlaid wooden circles, bringing a lot of charm and refinement. The back of the piece is neat, which allows it to be presented in the center of a room. Very fine work, typical of the late 18th century.
