Description

Etling was an editor of high quality objects in the 1930s. Etling published, among other things, the most beautiful bronzes of Chiparus. Mrs Lucille Sévin was the artistic director of this establishment and created the designs for Etling glassworks herself. The Isadora statuette pays homage to the dancer who killed herself, strangled by her scarf attached to the wheel of her car, in Nice. The statuette is signed in molded block letters and bears the number 50.
