Description

An exceptional pair of oil on panel portraits by A. d'Ambrossi, depicting two elegant gentlemen in period costume. The figures, dressed in rich lace gowns and embroidered coats, are painted with great detail and striking realism. The ensemble is presented in sumptuous original gilt carved frames. These works evoke the aristocratic elegance of the 17th century while bearing the signature and style of a 19th-century academic painter. A Parisian workshop label (Boudet, Paris - Fournitures Générales) is present on the back, adding to the historical interest.
