Description

Rare and very large pair of gilt bronze candelabra and 19th century brown patina representing characters from BLAVIER (19th century). Artist born in the north of France, he especially produced many bust and character, we find him exhibited in the museum of Douai. His figures rest on a cylindrical base with marble flutes in 2 colors black and green. On each of them is a figure, a young man in a coat holding a hat and a cane in his hands for both of them and for the other the young man is covered with a long coat and each carries an old one slung over his shoulder. with a brown patina. Behind each of the figures is a large trunk formed of leaves with at the top 6 branches furnished with leaves and clusters each terminated by a bobèche with gilded bronze patina. Very fine carving of the whole,
