Description

Raymond Rosso (1924-1988), Marseille artist born in Estaque, who studied at the School of Fine Arts in Marseille, exhibited at the Salon des Indépendants, then exhibited for many years in Paris at the Galerie on rue St Honoré. Post-impressionist artist very inspired by Bonnard, who produces very beautiful landscapes of Provence where he returned regularly, as well as more intimate scenes, or here the Bal du 14 Juillet. Oil on paper marouflée on panel and framed by an American box in light wood.
