

Boulle Type Console Pendulum, Early Eighteenth Century

8 200 EUR

Signature : France, Paris, Regnault un atelier d'horlogerie parisienne

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon, après contrôle horloger, traces d'utilisation visibles

Height : 87 cm

<https://www.proantic.com/en/831162-boulle-type-console-pendulum-early-eighteenth-century.html>

Description

Boulle type console clock, early 18th century, it rests on 4 feet that can be hung, with a sumptuous cello-shaped wooden cabinet, glazed on three sides, covered with tortoiseshell marquetry and brass sheet cut with floral motifs; edges and corners decorated with gilded bronzes with a vegetal flagellum motif, rockery and female hermes; on the glass door - an openwork inlay with the sea goddess - Amphitrite in a chariot made of shells, pulled by dolphins, a high hipped roof surmounted by a figure of Iris? Behind the glass of the door is a bronze shield with cobalt Roman numerals on enamelled plaques; in the center of the dial an enamelled badge with the inscription: Regnault a Paris "; in wood, back door inside decorated with an openwork brass leaf cut out with a pattern of vegetable scrolls,

Dealer

Antiques and Art-Lion

Sale of antiques, furniture, clocks, paintings

Mobile : +48608466740

12 Marca 211

Wejherowo 84-200

checkerboard decoration of the furniture floor;
the movement beats the hours and half-hours, engraved in the same way as on the dial.

Dimensions: clock - height 87 cm, width cm, depth cm; Origin: France, Paris, Regnault a Parisian watchmaking workshop Condition: very good, after watchmaking control, visible traces of use Material: bronze marquetry; wood, tortoiseshell, sheet of brass, gilded bronze, glass;
A very rare, very decorative watchmaking workshop