Description

Beautiful barber or barber furniture from the Louis Philippe period, XIXth Century.

Nice model in mahogany wood; it rests on an eventful tripod base decorated with volutes and surmounted by a turned wood bole alternating with rings, knots and grooves; the lower part adorned with a button with carved oval patterns. A cabinet opening with two leaves, intended to receive the shaving equipment, is inserted at two-thirds of the height of the bole.

Encased in a mahogany frame, the circular mirror (replaced by a modern one) is fixed by means of a bronze plate equipped with a notched disc and tightening wheel which allows its position to be adjusted. the height being done with a bronze tube sliding in the bole.

The object presents a beautiful state of patina; it
