Description

Console in mahogany and mahogany veneer from the Restoration period topped with a Belgian granite. The upper part with an ogee hides a planter with its zinc tray, the central shelf serves as a sideboard, the front uprights in the shape of a butt are carved with stylized rosettes and palmettes, they end in claw feet, the rear uprights are with pilasters decorated with bronzes. The base is a plinth, a sign of quality.

Note the later bronzes on the entire console and a refurbished tank.
