Description

Folding Round Table in Rio rosewood from the Art Deco period. The tulip shape reveals Leleu as a decorator as well as the space saving and functionality as a cabinetmaker. Its work is admirable with its solid mahogany base with S winding. Its cutaway base assembles the whole. The baluster is hexagonal (upper part). The mechanism of the part connecting the top to the base allows the table to be swiveled. The bronze handle facilitates the grip and serves to block the table. The recessed belt balances the tray with perfect harmony. The set rests on three original bronze casters for greater ease and thus facilitating better use. Delivery possible not included in the price.
