Description

Exceptional suite of twelve porcelain dessert plates made by Samson in the style of the famille rose de la Compagnie des Indes.

A scalloped plate with a white glaze, enriched in its center with a large bouquet of flowers, in shades of roses in their foliage.

The border is delimited by two stylized chains in matt gold, framing six small compositions of flowers and foliage.

A matt gold thread delimits the scalloped edge.

Production of the Emile Samson workshop (1837-1913) famous for its reproductions of old Asian porcelains.

All the plates are marked on the back by Samson with a red stamp in the Chinese style concealing an 'S'.

Diameter of a plate: 22 cm.
