Description

Exceptional and rare pair of tables model n°272 by the Danish architect and designer Illum Wikkelsø. This pair of small living room tables, cocktail table, side table, bedside table are of very high quality. They are made up of four spindle and oblique legs joined by turbulent crosspieces. The square top is held to the base by four plugs, also in rosewood. The two tops have different grain with the same wood. This nuance offers all the more elegance to this pair of tables, each unique. They are entirely in Rio rosewood. The base is characteristic of the work of Illum Wikkelsø. They are often accompanied by these armchairs and ottomans. They have been completely restored, re-varnished with a buffer. One has very slight "creases" in the corners.
