Description

Adorable little gondola-shaped wing chair that can also be used as a fireside chair. The armrest supports, as well as the four legs, are in solid mahogany. The base is concealed under a wide fringe of old gold color. The two front legs are finished with a volute work. The seat is old but retains great comfort. The covering fabric is from the same period, it is in Genoa velvet, the colors are slightly faded but this charming armchair has kept all its charm. It is a real invitation to relax. Note a very old repair on one of the rear legs (see last photo). This has no effect on the stability of this seat.
