Description

Louis XV style sofa from the end of the 18th century and beginning of the 19th century. The sofa is in beech covered with stucco and old gilding but remains in its state and it is necessary to plan restorations for this one. You can see traces of make-up on worn parts. A label was found stuck on a low crosspiece where we can probably discover its former owner Paul Fould (1837-1917) former banker family, he worked in requisitions for the Council of State and lived at the Chinese Embassy .
