Description

Huge slit drum collected on Ambrym Island in the archipelago of Vanuatu. The breadfruit slit drums of the island of Ambrym are still used today to communicate within the villages and to give rhythm to the traditional dances on the dance square called "Nasara". These majestic shapes, typical of the island of Ambrym, have made these drum totems one of the strong symbols of this region of the South Pacific. Evocation of the curved teeth of pigs (symbol of prosperity) under this stylized face. Totem sculpture that can be displayed both outdoors and indoors (see photos of examples). Consult us for indoor exposure for the base. Delivery costs: France 200EUR / EU 500EUR / USA 1000EUR.
