Description

This wooden club has the stylized shape of an animal which contains a ball in its mouth, which means for its owner that this army of war and dance masters the cosmos in its entirety. By evoking the spirit of nature, it gives it great power. The ball is fitted with an iron pin. The handle on both sides features the engraving of shooting stars and a stylized dancer. This object is a dance weapon, it is not used in fights, but symbolically allows them to be evoked during dance rituals.
